Art Unit 1713

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lindert et al., U.S. Patent 5,298,289 taken in view of Ara et al., U.S. Patent 5,378,291.

As previously established on the record, the Lindert patent shows each of applicants' claimed ingredients A-D. Applicants' newly amended claims further incorporate ingredient (E) thus being a friction reducing ingredient i.e. a lubricant. The Examiner acknowledges that the primary reference issued to Lindert fails to specifically incorporate these lubricants but does not find anything in Lindert which would exclude the commercially available and conventionally incorporated lubricants into such metallic coating compositions. The Ara patent is cited as showing conventionally incorporated and commercially available lubricants and the addition of these lubricants to metal conversion coating compositions such as those described in Lindert et al. The lubricants are the same as those instantly claimed and can be found specifically identified at column 6 line 44 - column 7 lines 1+. The Examiner maintains that it would be prima facie obvious to utilize the lubricants as shown in Ara in the composition of Lindert given that one of ordinary skill in the art would have a reasonable expectation of success when doing so. This is to say that obviousness does not require absolute predictability but rather a reasonable expectation of success by one of ordinary skill in the art. One of ordinary skill in the art would expect the lubricant compound as shown in Ara to function in an acceptable manner within the Lindert et al. disclosure and thus would be motivated to add such a lubricant should one of ordinary skill in the art practicing the invention of Lindert et al. desire the lubricating properties imparted by the known lubricants. Applicants have failed to show or allege any unexpected results due to the specifically claimed lubricants and as such the Examiner can find no evidence of record which would rebut the prima facie case of obviousness.

Applicants' amendment necessitated the new grounds of rejection. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See M.P.E.P. § 706.07(a). Applicants are reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 C.F.R. § 1.136(a). The practice of automatically extending the shortened statutory period an additional month upon the filing of a timely first response to a final rejection has been discontinued by the Office. See 1021 TMOG 35.

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR RESPONSE TO THIS FINAL ACTION IS SET TO EXPIRE THREE MONTHS FROM THE DATE OF THIS ACTION. IN THE EVENT A FIRST RESPONSE IS FILED WITHIN TWO MONTHS OF THE MAILING DATE OF THIS FINAL ACTION AND THE ADVISORY ACTION IS NOT MAILED UNTIL AFTER THE END OF THE THREE-MONTH SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD, THEN THE SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD WILL EXPIRE ON THE DATE THE ADVISORY ACTION IS MAILED, AND ANY EXTENSION FEE PURSUANT TO 37 C.F.R. § 1.136(a) WILL BE CALCULATED FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THE ADVISORY ACTION. IN NO EVENT WILL THE STATUTORY PERIOD FOR RESPONSE EXPIRE LATER THAN SIX MONTHS FROM THE DATE OF THIS FINAL ACTION.
